Your Values, Your Impact, Your Story
Organizational Resilience

Kiran Singh Sirah, International Storytelling Center
Adam Booth, Shepard University
Adam Booth, Shepard University

Kiran Singh Sirah, International Storytelling Center
Title of Workshop: Your values, your impact, your stories
Note Taker: Brian Levinson
Date: September 10, 2019
Note Taker email: blevinson@nw.org
Presenters: Kiran Singh, Adam Booth
Approx # of Attendees: 40

Workshop Description:
Learn how to transform what you do every day into stories that inspire and messages that will help strengthen your organization.

Key Discussion Points

How do different generations share stories?

Do we want to create a masterpiece or a tweet? To create a masterpiece, we must be willing to unpack our past.

Themes/Overall Impressions

Get the talk right: when talking about development be clear about what you are building and for whom.

Storytelling is the way we decorate our front porches.
Stories as a Force for Social Change
Reclaiming Appalachia Workshop
September 2019
Welcome!
Anita Norman

“There is a community rooting for a lost art form and the mental images it creates. People understand the struggle and soul behind words. They understand the sacred and the humorous, the tragic and the triumphant...The world is very much in need of spaces like these where truth comes to be heard. Now more than ever, I hold closely to the belief that storytelling connects individuals. It heals.”

INTERNATIONAL STORYTELLING CENTER

For Exploring

- Telling Stories That Matter
- a storyteller. This work is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.
- Racebridge Studios

Telling Stories That Matter

A TOOLKIT FOR EXPLORING YOUR POTENTIAL AS A STORYTELLER

Forpart in storytelling events

For teachers and
WORKSHOPS

Tim Lowry: Using Story for Effective Communication
Thursday, June 20 • 9:30–11:30 am • $30

Noa Baum: Beyond Labels: Bridging Differences through Storytelling
Thursday, July 11 • 9:30–11:30 am • $30

Lyn Ford: Educating the Mind and Heart: Storytelling Skills to Build Classroom Community
Saturday, September 21 • 9:30 am – 11:30 am
This workshop is provided free to teachers through the generosity of the Niswonger Foundation.

WORKSHOPS

Regi Carpenter: Getting to Grief: Storytelling in Bereavement
Thursday, June 7 • 9:30–11:30 am • $30

Gay Ducey: THAT’S NOT FAIR!
Using Storytelling in the Classroom to Encourage Tolerance, Critical Thinking, Empathy and Good Decisions
Saturday, September 22 • 10 am–12 pm
This workshop is provided free to teachers through the generosity of the Niswonger Foundation.

Beth Horner: Stories to Create Positive Change Inside & Outside Your Institution
Thursday, September 27 • 9:30–11:30 am • $30
Your plan

Reality
Q&A